PRESS RELEASE

Las Bambas, Antapaccay and Hudbay will discuss copper technological challenges and issues

Within the framework of EXPOCOBRE 2023, which will be held from May 29 to June 1, at the Jockey Club of Peru's Exhibition Center

Decarbonization, increased geopolitical risk, deferral of capital projects, technological innovation, as well as few discoveries and low investment have left a lack of high grade copper assets with a significant useful life.

These concerns and others will be addressed in the keynote lecture "Technological Challenges and Challenging technological challenges in copper mining", which will take place within the framework of the I World Copper Conference +Expo – EXPOCOBRE 2023, organized by InterMet, which will be held from May 29 to June 1, at the Exhibition Center of the Jockey Club of Peru.

The conference will be attended by distinguished professionals such as: Eng. Edgardo Orderique – General Manager of Operations of Minera Las Bambas; Eng. Carlos Cotera – General Manager of Compañía Minera Antapaccay; Eng. Javier del Río – Senior VP South America and USA Business Units – Hudbay Minerals Inc.; Francisco Lecaros – President of Fundación Minera de Chile, and Mr. Fernando Samanez – VP & Head of Minerals Sales MA South America at Metso

The master conference will be held on Monday 29th (17:30 to 19:00 hours). On the same day presentations will also be made by the International Council on Mining and Metals– ICMM, Southern Peru, the Australian Embassy in Peru and Bolivia, among others.

Metals–ICMM, Southern Peru, the Australian Embassy in Peru and Bolivia, among others. At the morning, it is important to mention, the EXPOCOBRE 2023 Fair will be inaugurated with a cocktail and typical dances

It is worth mentioning that by means of Secretarial Resolution No. 0236–2023–RE, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs made the officialized the holding of the I World Copper Conference +Expo–EXPOCOBRE 2023, which will have an exhibition fair of more than 10,000 m2, with more than 100 stands of prestigious companies in the sector.
